Mr. J. Toomes

Dear Mr. Toomes:

You are correct in assuming that General Smith does have a real and sympathetic interest in the problems of displaced persons and political refugees. However, he is not personally familiar with the educational opportunities in the United States which are open to persons in this category and since this matter does not fall within his sphere of interest as Director of Central Intelligence, he has asked me to forward your letter to the proper authorities in the State Department. I am confident that you will receive a communication from them on this subject in the near future.

Sincerely,

PS
